

SHOUT DEATH TO AMERICANS

Colombians Make an Attack on the United States Consulate at Bogota.

CITIZENS ANGRY

News of the Secession of Panama Makes Colombians Rabid Against All Americans.

Colon, Nov. 13.—The Colombians at Barranquilla stoned the United States consulate when news of the secession of the Panama states reached that city. Mobs of citizens allied the streets, shouting "Death to the Americans," and the authorities controlled the populace with difficulty.

Public indignation at Bogota is increasing hourly, according to advices received from there. President Marroquin, it is stated, is trying to leave the capital. There is some anxiety at the American legation, which is still surrounded and protected by Colombian troops.

Fears are entertained for the safety of Americans in Colombia and of the possibility of the anger of the populace being vented against foreigners generally. The authorities at Savannah have mounted two obsolete guns covering the wharf.

News Travels Slowly. News of the secession of Panama did not reach Cartagena, Savannah, and Barranquilla until the arrival at the first named port of the steamer Orinoco, with the Colombian troops deported from Colon two days after the declaration of independence. The news was quickly telegraphed to all points along the coast. The steamer returned to this port, bringing news of the uprising in the Colombian cities.

At Cartagena Gen. Torres and his officers were threatened with arrest as traitors, but the threat was not put into effect. The populace, greatly excited, soon crowded the streets crying, "Down with the Americans."

United States Consul Ingersoll, fearing violence, remained shut up in the consulate.

Reads News to Crowd. The excitement at Barranquilla increased with the spreading of the news of the secession of the isthmus, which was supplemented by exaggerated accounts of the alleged part played by the United States therein. Panama's declaration of independence was read from a newspaper by the prefect to a crowd assembled in the piazza and was greeted by furious outcries and shouts of "death to the Panamanians" and "death to the Americans."

The prefect followed the reading by a speech in which he declared that the Colombian government would never permit the secession of the isthmus and would win back the lost territory at any cost.

Troops May Go by Land. It is reported here that the Colombian troops are attempting to march overland to Panama from Tumaco. Gen. Melendez says, however, that they can never reach Panama owing to the nature of the country. Gen. Melendez said further:

"Panama will be able to raise between 5,000 and 6,000 troops, partly armed, in case the necessity arises to resist a Colombian attack, but I do not believe that any such necessity will ever arise."

It is apparent that United States warships will not permit any movement by sea of armed Panama forces. Gov. Melendez tried to send twenty-five armed men to Porto Bello, but they were stopped by the United States gunboat Nashville and compelled to return. A schooner loaded with Panamanian troops was sent to Bocas del Toro, but they went unarmed.

For Agricultural Census. Washington, Nov. 13.—Senator Hopkins of Illinois, while in the House was chairman of the census committee, introduced a bill that in addition to the census now required by law there shall be taken in the year 1905 and every ten years thereafter a census on the statistics of agriculture, which shall show the number of farms, their value and acreage, give a classification of live stock, with value, and the acreage, quantity and value of cotton, corn, wheat, oats, rye, barley, buckwheat, hay, flax, rice and potatoes.

May Honor Mr. Hopkins. Washington, Nov. 13.—Senator Hopkins of Illinois will probably be selected to fill the vacancy upon the important finance committee made vacant by the retirement from congress of Senator Jones of Nevada. It is unusual to assign a new senator to this great committee, but Senator Cullom, speaker Cannon, Senator Allison and other powerful influences are at work and the prospects are bright that Mr. Hopkins will be landed.

ANOTHER KILLING
BY CRUEL TURKS

Armenian Relief Party Killed at the Foot of Mount Ararat

Pittsburg, Nov. 13.—Armenian Relief Party, leader of the local Hunschabogian branch of the Armenian patriots, whose brother, Rev. Q. B. Chutjian, was murdered at Odessa last June, today received advices of another massacre by Turkish soldiers at Bayazid, Province of Erzeroum, at the foot of Mount Ararat. Two bands of Armenians were attempting to reach Asia Minor from Russia to carry relief to suffering Armenian farmers in that section. The first party of fifteen members was attacked in the pass by Turkish soldiers and killed in cold blood. Many of the second band were also killed, and the money and relief supplies confiscated.

HEROIC SEAMEN SAVE
TORPEDO DESTROYER

Lieut. Curtin and His Crew Have Desperate Fight With Flames on the Lawrence.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 13.—Facing almost certain death, Lieutenant Roland L. Curtin and a band of heroic seamen fought flames that were roaring toward the explosives on the torpedo boat destroyer Lawrence and saved the war craft from destruction. Just before the fire reached the magazine, in which was stored a large quantity of powder and shells, the little band of marines had the satisfaction of stamping out the last spark, saving the boat and their own lives.

The fire started in a stuffy compartment directly adjoining the magazine, and had gained considerable headway when it was discovered. The place was filled with a dense smoke that baffled the efforts of the crew and caused them to fall helplessly to the steel floor. Time and again Lieutenant Curtin dove into the fire chamber and emerged with the unconscious form of a seaman in his grasp. After a hurried resuscitation the seaman and his officer would renew the fight.

Finally the flames were extinguished and then the lieutenant was missed. A sailor plunged into the compartment and a second later came out with the limp body of the officer in his arms. The damage to the Lawrence was trifling.

EDWARD HOOVER IS EXECUTED

Indiana Murderer Pays Death Penalty for Killing Wife's Father.

Michigan City, Ind., Nov. 13.—Edward Hoover was hanged here for the murder of his father-in-law, Frank Sutton, in Indianapolis last May. Sutton and Hoover had quarreled and Hoover frequently threatened Sutton. Hoover's wife left him because of his quarrelsome disposition and in a fight with Sutton over this fact the latter was shot and killed. Hoover's sole plea was insanity, but the state showed that he had merely been drinking when the crime was committed. He was originally sentenced to be hanged Oct. 2, but the supreme court granted a stay of execution.

SOLVING THE RACE PROBLEM.

NAVAL STATION
SITE PICKED

SECRETARY MOODY SUGGESTS LAKE BLUFF IN ILLINOIS

MILWAUKEE WANTED LOCATION

Cream City Had Hoped To Have the Station in That Vicinity.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Lake Bluff, thirty-two miles north of Chicago, is recommended as the most suitable site for a naval training station upon the great lakes. This recommendation is emphasized by Secretary of the Navy Moody in his letter submitting to the senate the report of the special board, consisting of Admiral H. C. Taylor, Commander C. M. R. Winstow and Civil Engineer H. H. Rousseau, appointed under act of congress to locate the site.

The secretary continues: "In view of the large price at which land at that point is held by the owners, the board suggests four other sites as suitable, which in the order of their desirability are as follows: Racine, Muskegon, Milwaukee and Michigan City. Comments Recruits.

"At the present time a large number of recruits for the naval service are obtained from the cities of which Lake Michigan is the center. These men are of high quality in every respect, and after one term of enlistment become excellent seamen for service either in the navy or the merchant marine, and in many cases become well fitted for responsible positions in private life. I respectfully recommend to congress the earnest consideration of the report of this board and the establishment of the naval training station on the great lakes in accordance with its recommendations."

Cost of Land. Regarding the price of land, of which 100 acres is required, the board says it can be purchased at Lake Bluff for $900 an acre, at Milwaukee for $700, at Racine, $250, at Michigan City, $125, and at Muskegon for $100 an acre. Lake Bluff has great advantages as regards population. Muskegon excels in having the best natural harbor, Michigan City has the advantage of proximity to the center of population of the great lakes region and access to the Atlantic seaboard.

Negotiations with owners to definitely fix the price of land have not been conducted, nor have options been obtained. One important matter to be determined on regarding the sites between Milwaukee and Chicago would be whether the Sheridan driveway would of necessity pass through the government reservation. The board leaves the inference that no site should be chosen through which a driveway will pass.

The bill authorizes the secretary to notify the secretary of the interior to withdraw from market and settlement 140,000,000 acres of government lands, grouping them together in as large tracts as possible.

DISORDER MARKS FIRST DAY OF BIG CAR STRIKE

Company Will Make Efforts to Run Its Lines at Chicago Under Police Protection.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 13.—One man so severely beaten that he is not expected to recover, and ten others more or less seriously injured by stones hurled at the cars and by assaults, is the casualty record of the first day's disorders in the great street car strike.

The effort of the company was confined practically to two demonstrations, one on the Cottage Grove avenue line and one on the Wentworth avenue line. Both encountered violence, fierce, continuous and victorious. Cars were shattered, the crews mangled, bruised, cut, battered and injured, some seriously.

The company abandoned its attempts to run cars and after the first series had succeeded in returning to the protection of the bars, no more were sent out. All afternoon and evening not a wheel turned on the vast system of the City Railway company, with the exception of the United States mail cars.

The rioters were a furious lot. But they were not strikers. The strikers seem mostly to have kept off the streets to have congregated at their headquarters and elsewhere to talk it over. Their sympathizers fought the battle, heaved the rocks, blockaded the cars, battered the crews, and prevented further locomotion.

The crowds were composed, according to the police and to observers generally, of boys, the hoodlum element, and workmen of other crafts. The teamsters gave an elaborate illustration of their peculiar and commonly invincible tactics. They are the masters of the streets. They throw their wagons across the tracks; they interlocked their wheels; one coal driver even unscrewed his axle nut.

A determined effort to break the strike will be made to-day, according to the announcement of General Manager Robert McCulloch. Police officials, labor leaders, railway attorneys, and superintendents conferred yesterday with the general manager at the offices of the company, 2020 State street.

If the attempt forcibly to break the strike fails to-day it is believed from McCulloch's statements that the company will attempt negotiations with the union to-morrow. This will be done by making the reply which McCulloch promised for to-morrow. Should the police be able to protect the cars, the company may consider it unnecessary to treat further with the strikers.

Henry Klein, aged 25 years, and Frank Gray, aged 25, both of Minneapolis, were drowned in Lake Edly, near Anoka, Minn. They had gone to the lake to hunt and their boat overturned.

Governor Pardee of California has issued a warrant of extradition against David C. Nelson, held on the charge of being accessory to a murder committed by his brother in Coffeyville, Kan.

William Stokes, a negro, shot and seriously wounded Fred Smith, an oil worker, at Marion, Ind., because the latter bantered him over his failure to bag any game on a hunting trip. Smith called Stokes a poor shot.

Stokes escaped. The case of Hugh H. Price, former surveyor general, on trial for bribery in the United States court at Phoenix, Ariz., has been dismissed on instruction of the court to the jury to acquit because the testimony was not consistent with the indictments. The case will be referred to the next grand jury. The evidence did not show that money had been paid previous to the performance of the work.

POLICEMEN AWE
A HOWLING MOB

Ventworth Avenue Line Was Run Today Under Police Protection.

LITTLE VIOLENCE

The Strikers Seemed Afraid To Do Anything, But Yelled "Scab," in Presence of Police.

[Special By Scripps-McLain.] Chicago, Ill., Nov. 13.—Under the protection of an army of policemen the street car tie-up was partly broken this morning, five trains on the Wentworth avenue electric line making the trip from the Seventy-seventh street barns to the heart of the city, and return with practically no opposition. The display of the force was too great and the mob's spirit was held in check.

800 in Line. Eight hundred policemen, heavily armed, were strung along the seventy-fifth street barns to the up-town terminus at the city hall. Every train had its complement of policemen and at the stock yards crossing a hundred and fifty policemen massed the great crowds and also at many places along the line every window and door was filled with women and children who joined the men in the streets in jeering the trains as they sped by.

Come Early. The crowds began to gather before dawn and soon followed by police. The hoodlums whose actions are disapproved by strikers were prominent in the crowds. At the seventy-seventh street barns five hundred persons gathered when at 8:35 trains emerged with from twelve to fifteen policemen on each train and two patrol wagons filled with policemen followed. The crowd hurled jeers and cries of "scab" at the trains, but no violence was attempted. The trains received the same reception throughout the trip. At one place obstructions on the track were encountered, but they were quickly removed and the cars proceeded. When the post-office was reached the workmen there hurled a number of bricks at the first car, but did no damage. The return trip was without incident beyond continuous jeering.

More Trains Later. After the cars had turned into the barns the officials of the railway said an increased number of trains would be sent out this afternoon. They affected to believe the backbone of the strike was broken. Busses, automobiles, express wagons and other available vehicles were pressed into service this morning. Hundreds of workers, men and women, dug up rusty bicycles and pedaled to their places of employment. Many freight trains pulled into down-town yards literally covered with men and boys.

Harter says he will fight the case. It is said that the young woman had her wedding clothes ready and expected on two different occasions to become the bride of Mr. Harter. It is also asserted on good authority that Harter got out into the world and became infatuated with a young lady supposed to be living in St. Louis, and soon after his heart's affections were turned away from Miss Hughes to the new charmer. Mr. Harter lives in Vandalia, Ill.

Musical Fish. Lake Itasca, Minn., has the probably unique distinction of being the home of musical fish. The sounds emitted by these are said to be as sweet and melodious as those which would be produced by a series of Aeolian harps. Crossing the lake in a boat one can plainly distinguish the pleasant sounds. If an ear is dipped in the water the melody becomes louder and more distinct.

JUNIUS WRITES OF CITY AFFAIRS

HAS MANY GOOD IDEAS FOR THEIR BENEFIT.

MAKES COMMON SENSE TALK

There is No Mincing Matters, and Plain, Interesting Facts
Are Presented.

To the Editor: In accepting your permission to use the columns of the Gazette upon the broad subject of city affairs, I will remark in advance that the Gazette is a widely read journal and of correspondingly great influence. The necessity of avoiding rashness in discussion is therefore, apparent. Facts only are of use.

No Time for By-gones
And I am not disposed to waste much time over by-gones. They may not be wholly omitted, but there is no sense in everlastingly "thrumping an old saw." However, we are all bound to go by the records and the latter will speak for themselves occasionally.

Trouble in the Start
The folly of expecting immediate benefits from the change of administration is as plain as day, yet this is where more of the trouble appears upon the surface.

The city government is a vast machine which must be kept running. There is neither interin between the outgoing and incoming, nor is there opportunity for hurry if such policy is intended. And this fact leads directly to the main question.

The Main Question
The main question is not a matter of votes, majorities, and policies agreed upon; the main question is, will the people be satisfied to wait until the effects of the change can be tested, without prejudice? In this matter reference is made, of course, to the people of Janesville, although, precisely the same thing affects every city where reform is attempted.

It was not a moral reform in the ordinary sense, that swept Janesville last spring. It was the expression of the public will in favor of strict business methods. And yet we have only to remain quiet about five minutes to see something like this:

Groups of people who supposed that there was a job for every man the next morning after election.

Groups who expected to see the saloon doors nailed up, and vice versa to virtue during the same forenoon.

Groups who counseled moderation and yet who "began to talk" before the week was out.

Groups who supposed the whole police force would be fired out, and inexperienced men employed.

Groups who supposed that all outstanding debts and obligations incurred by the previous council, would be disposed of according to their wishes at the first meeting of the new council.

This list might be extended indefinitely but space forbids.

Some Soothing Facts
I am in sympathy with the honest critic, but have no use for cranks. However, honest criticism of public affairs is exactly what prompts the reform as nothing else can. But those who would tear things to pieces if they were vested with power, have a fatal weakness. They build nothing to fill the space made vacant. The man who would nail up the saloon is careful to omit the blind pig substitute and loss of revenue to the city. He thinks there is only one side to such a question, but alas! when a man thinks that way it is the very time for him to look for another side, and keep looking until he finds it. The trouble lies with the critic, and not with the question.

Must Take Things Cool
But no matter how the private citizen may view the subject, the city officer holder is confronted with altogether a different state of things.

He quickly finds out that he is a part of the machine and that opportunities for brilliance are few and far between. There are any amount of chances to incur responsibility and work, but not many for show. He can be honest, but he cannot inspire his constituents like Richard L. calling for recruits to help rescue the holy city from the grasp of the Saracen.

O, their people may get excited, he must keep cool. Property must be assessed at a certain time of the year. Taxes can only be collected at the time designated by law.

Personal Citizenship
I might allude to many reforms needed to Janesville for I hear them touched upon lightly at club meetings, but I have never yet heard the subject of "personal citizenship" alluded to. And yet it is not the fact that the average citizen treats the city as an enemy rather than a friend? There is no point so delicate as that of assessing property, but the assessor is often compelled to form his opinion without the owner's aid.

Janesville has two assessors who make a careful canvass. Their assessment is carefully reviewed, not by themselves only, but by the introduction of disinterested parties, to wit: the mayor and city clerk, whose business it is to be present to listen to all complaints. This year the board continued to meet double the usual time owing to extension made by the council, and yet no doubt there are many who think that because of the annual budget was reduced $5,000, that their taxes ought to have been wiped out.

No subject connected with the city government compares with this in importance, unless the loving and the collection of taxes can be predicted upon the principles of equality and for the benefit of the community, and with special favors to none, the government itself ceases to be according to the design of the founders.

Having emerged from the state of preparation, a new administration does well if it cannot be rattled so to speak, at the start. This comes from the surprises in store, many of which are vexatious and unpleasant. Can anything be done without violating the charter? It is possible to conduct the city's business without stretching the law?

Notorious Fact
The fact is notorious that in certain cases at least, the city is the loser by strict observance of the charter. But who is to concern himself about having the necessary amendments secured?

A Common Mistake
It is a common mistake to suppose that a city government runs itself. True, it has the machinery, but there are times when the different heads of departments can easily become "unmanned." The intention is to keep each department in thorough trim, for business. The mayor's office, in the city building, has thus far been open each morning at 9 o'clock, with rare exceptions. The treasury and clerk departments open at the same hour. The police headquarters are located in the basement; the city engineer also has his office in the basement; the fire chief on second floor, same as the police court.

A Missing Link
Of course it is the intention that whoever has business with either of these departments should consult it personally or by telephone. Some people who are more noted for complaining than for anything else, pay no heed to this excellent arrangement of departments, but pour out their tales of woe in the wrong office.

It is needless to report that the new city administration was treated to more than one surprise. The matter of an empty treasury was expected, but the seriously tumbled-down and rotten condition of three prominent bridges over Rock river was not expected. When public money has been used up there ought to be something to show for it. There was very little to show except outstanding notes, and bills for labor, material and unexpired contracts. And this is a reminder that the last council meeting expended between eight and ten thousand dollars, which included payment of all notes except one for $500. Money borrowed for the schools has to be paid by the board of education. They are paying interest on $4,000 for fuel.

Still Other Questions
But then, why make too many words all at once; let these things come up gradually. There is more than one subject that needs airing and may get it, but not all today.

The Missing Link
There is, however, a missing link with the police department. There should be a desk officer always at the headquarters, who in turn should always be able to locate the police, but this attempt has ever been made to cure this defect in the police system.

So it is, a telephone message to headquarters of the chief may reach some one, or it may not, according to the outside business. It is a mistake to wake the fire department in the night, or even to annoy them in the day time with police calls, but at present there is no alternative. It is a missing link of our police system.

Sewerage to Fit
The demand for sidewalk grades during the past season has been phenomenal, but this same work takes the chief engineer's services, the result being that our vast sewer system is still incomplete on the map.

The intention now is, to have the system so far completed that sewerage can be put down before any street can be improved next summer. People should remember when they call for macadamized streets that they will also be charged with sewerage to fit the system.

Honesty the Main Thing
The habit of taking advantage of the city is pretty well understood in Janesville. It takes in many a critic who thinks himself exempt. If economy is extended every one knows only such expenditures can be made as cannot be avoided. And even while at this task the rule still holds away, that men must be taken as we find them. They are not made to order nowadays. If, however, the city can be run honestly, the treasury can be emptied just the same.

And Now the Plan
The special committee to formulate a general plan for street improvements next spring will hold their first session Thursday evening, hereafter, if things go as intended, each permanent street improvement will be made a part of this general plan.

But not too much at once. I will mention a few details next time.

Respectfully,
JUNIUS.

SUICIDE MADE EASY.

Dependent Norwegian Took His Own Life by Simple Method of Retaining to Breathe.

That it is possible to commit suicide by simply holding one's breath has been clearly proved by a dependent Norwegian, who recently killed himself in this very unusual manner. When he determined to die he closed his mouth and nostrils and by mere force of will prevented his lungs from doing their proper work.

This case is the more remarkable, says the New York Herald, as there has long been a popular notion that no human being could by mere will power stop the action of the lungs for more than one or two minutes. For this reason it has attracted much attention, and a French writer, commenting on it, says:

"To persons of good taste who are weary of life this method of committing suicide will certainly commend itself, one reason being because the body is not disfigured thereby, and another because the act can be committed in any place and at any time. It is true that sensitive or nervous persons will never be able to kill themselves in this manner, for, simple as it seems, the act of retaining one's breath until death comes can only be performed by one who is either unusually phlegmatic or endowed with a very strong will."

KNOW LITTLE OF AMERICA.

Canadian Resents Official English Interpretation of Canada and Cities Lord Roberts' Report.

May I be permitted, writes an Ottawa resident to the London Outlook, as an humble member of one of Great Britain's colonies to draw your attention to the following instances of the customary amazing ignorance displayed by Englishmen of all classes as regards the size and condition, geographical and otherwise, of the Dominion of Canada?

The following reply, given by the commander in chief in his evidence before the royal commission on the war on the question as to the possibility of finding suitable maneuvering grounds for troops in Canada, appears in the Blue Book recently issued:

"I do not know Canada personally (says Lord Roberts). I have been told that Canada is very much covered with dense forests and that it is very difficult to find much spare ground."

Would Lord Roberts be surprised to learn that the northern half of the American continent, known as Canada, possesses an area of over 3,000,000 square miles; that the prairies of Canada extend for many thousands of miles and are as open as the flattest portions of Wimbledon commons; that there is so much "spare ground" in Canada that the present population of 5,000,000 or so is at a loss to know what to do with it?

MOST FAMOUS OF LIGHTS.

The Edystone Beacon a Lanesome and Dangerous Post-Castly Affair to Keep Up.

No lighthouse the world over has as wide fame among mariners as that which stands 14 miles off the coast of Land's End, says the Chicago Chronicle. It is perhaps the most celebrated in the world. It has often been used as an illustration by poets and preachers, for no other lighthouse is in such a lonesome or dangerous place and none costs so much money and trouble. There are three keepers who live there with their families, and two of them are always on duty, while the third is on the main coast enjoying a vacation. They relieve each other each month, so that none of the keepers remain on duty more than two months at a time. This change and rest is said to be absolutely necessary to preserve the nerves of the keepers. The lighthouse is 135 feet high, was erected in 1882 at a cost of $400,000, and rises from a submerged rock. The first lighthouse was erected on this rock as long ago as 1637, but was washed away six years after and was not replaced for a long time. The second was burned down in 1775, the third stood from 1767 to 1882 and was famous in history.

CRACKING A STEEL SAFE.

Nitroglycerin Does the Work Without Any Boiling Whatever—Wonderfully Simple Operation.

"The work of cracking an old steel safe has become very simple," said an inspector of the post office department to a Washington Star reporter. "You see," he continued, "all the burglar has to do is to pour nitroglycerin in the cracks of the safe, then throw some combustible material over it, set it afire and get out of the way. In a short time the explosion occurs and the door drops out as readily as if it were made of pasteboard."

"This method of going into a safe is known to all the cracksmen, and it seldom occurs that we hear of a case of burglarizing a post office in the small towns that has not been accomplished in that manner. The old method of boring into a safe in order to insert the explosive is no longer heard of. I do not know how this practice can be stopped unless greater care is taken in watching the post offices or modern safes are provided. It is impracticable to equip all the post offices with modern safes, so that I think the simple methods of the burglars will be used for a long time to come."

Makes No Difference to Uncle Sam.
Kaiser Wilhelm should rest assured, says the Chicago Daily News, that if he wishes to challenge for the America's cup, Uncle Sam will find as much pleasure in taking it away from him as from anyone whom he happens just now to call to mind.

LABOR TALK FOR WORKMEN

Gossip From Abroad

According to the annual report of Commissioner General Frank P. Sargent, of the Bureau of Immigration, there has been a large increase in immigration to this country during the last fiscal year, when 577,000 foreigners crossed our borders. The greatest number over 230,000 came from Italy, while Austria Hungary furnished over 200,000. From the Oriental countries came nearly 200,000 Japanese and over 2,000 Chinese. 185,667 of the immigrants could not read nor write. The total amount of money brought with them amounted to $15,175,513. Alien immigrants were rejected, because they were paupers, diseased or contract laborers. Counting second and first cabin immigrants who arrived in this country last year, makes the number very near the million mark. Hardly any of these people are skilled laborers.

In his annual address before the Massachusetts state branch of the American Federation of Labor, at Worcester, recently, President Crozier, said that the total number of strikes in Massachusetts during the year was 231, the greater number for higher wages and a shorter workday. Of the strikes 62 were successful, 106 were compromised, 62 failed, five are still pending, and in 22 cases the result was not made known.

Five hundred delegates met in Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 1, and organized a union Labor League. The meeting was the result of the passage by the state legislature of the anti-boycott bill, a measure regarded as unfriendly to union labor, and a plan of raising funds to fight this law was perfected at the gathering.

Governor J. K. Toole, J. J. Hill, and Senator Paris Gibson are in Butte, Mont. They will meet Senator W. A. Clark and will try to settle the trouble between the Amalgamated Copper company and F. A. Henze. The miners hope to be able to resume work soon under satisfactory conditions. There are 20,000 idle.

At the meeting of the National Union of Shipwrights, Joiners and Carpenters of America held in Detroit recently, it was voted to change the name of the organization to the International Union of Shipwrights, Joiners and Carpenters. This was done so as to admit Canadian unions, whose members are anxious to become a part of this union.

General Organizer Elchebarger, of the Amalgamated Butcher Workmen' union of North America, asserts that 60,000 out of the 78,000 members of the union will in all probability strike in sympathy with the 2,000 sausage makers and cannery men who have quit in the packing houses in Chicago for and increase in wages of 25 cents a day.

ARE PLANNING FOR CHRISTMAS

TRADES PEOPLE GET IN YULE TIDE GIFTS—APPROPRIATE STOCK:

MANY CHRISTMAS TREES SOLD

Supply Becoming Scarcer Each Year— Boat Loads Coming Down Lake Michigan.

Christmas is more than six weeks away, but long before the heat of the family, begins to think of the Christmas dinner, or the various members of the household plan for the gifts they will give to their relatives and friends, the tradesmen are preparing for the Christmas tree supply. Long before the passers-by in front of the candy store smell the fresh odor of the holly and the evergreen, the grocers and men behind the counters in the confectionary stores, the heads of the toy stores and the big departments emporiums are planning for the purchase of their Christmas stock of goods, that there will be things offered suitable for all to buy presents for the coming Yuletide. The jewelry stores will soon decorate their windows with their best and most attractive display, and a little later, the toy stores will fill their counters with the things which that are marvelous and entrancing to the small boy.

Christmas Trees.
The men who handle Christmas trees for Santa Claus are also preparing for their supply which is such demand at this festive time. Several car loads of Christmas trees are disposed of every year in Janesville and the beautiful evergreens are usually purchased by the wholesaler through Chicago firms. "The trees are of different variety," said a representative of Hanley Bros., "the concern which supplies the local demand. Some are grown in swamp lands and consequently of poorer quality. Those raised in nurseries are of a considerable better variety. The prices range from 10 cents to $5 each. Large trees purchased at wholesale cost in the neighborhood of $2.50. If evergreens in carloads lots are bought, there is a reduction in the freight rates. Dealers are satisfied, however, if they make a profit of $1.50 on a big tree. Sometimes there is less than 50 cents profit.

Trees Getting Scarce.
The forests of Wisconsin are being thinned out, and in some sections the best trees are gone. It takes from five to twelve years to grow a good specimen. Drummond's island is occupied almost entirely by Indian farmers, who deal in trees and from whom the wholesalers in the larger cities buy great quantities. They range from five feet to thirty and almost every one is a balsam, which is the finest evergreen for a Christmas tree. It is deep green in color and stays fresh the longest. The Indians receive from 5 to 30 cents for each of their trees. The Christmas tree industry is an important one in northern Wisconsin and Michigan. Many of them who bring them to market each winter own their own lands and boats and cut down certain sections each year. The biggest market is in Chicago and the schooners that carry trees to that port usually bring about 30,000 in a load. Large schooners also come to Milwaukee each year laden to the limit with the fragrant branches.

Boat Loads Start South.
One man who makes the Cream City harbor each year has arrived already. He said that he did not intend to reach his destination so soon but that he started early so as to allow for storms and that he had unusually favorable winds which brought his craft quickly down the lake without adverse weather and considerably sooner than he had expected. As the festive time draws near he will decorate the sides of his ship with his wares, the trees to the rigging and even raise one or two small ones to the cross arms of the masts and these as they can be seen for some distance, make an excellent advertisement for his business. This man not only sells to all the dealers but to the retail trade as well. His boat is usually tied up near the Grand Avenue bridge and will be remembered by Janesvillites who have had occasion to be in the vicinity at that time.

JANESVILLE MAN WAS BADLY HURT

Wall Fell Upon Miles Maxwell While Working in Brod.

Word has been received from Broadhead that Miles Maxwell, a stone mason, living at Eastern Ave., and Armour was badly injured yesterday by the falling of a brick wall that was in process of construction. Maxwell had two ribs broken and his arm hurt and his head badly cut. Another workman Henry Conrad, of Tomah, was severely cut about the head and had his nose and upper jaw badly bruised and also suffered a fracture of the hip bone.

Due To Wind.
The collapse of the wall was due to the heavy wind which struck the wall suddenly while the men were at work on a scaffolding and blew the framework and wall over the men before they could escape. The work was being done on a new tobacco warehouse that was being built. The injured men were cared for at once. Several other persons were injured by the flying bricks.

ANOTHER COMPANY IS TALKED OF

According to Rumor, a Second Millitia Company May Be Formed, in Beloit.

A movement is on foot to organize another militia company in Beloit, but is hardly likely to result in anything definite, as the state guard now has its full quota of infantry companies, and at present there are three independent companies in the state that are awaiting an opportunity to get mustered into the state service.

COUNTY BOARD ENDS SESSION

COMMITTEE ON FINANCE MAKES INTERESTING REPORT.

MUCH BUSINESS TRANSACTED

Supervisors Apportion County Valuation—Merchants' & Mechanics' Bank Gets County Business.

The shake-up in valuation throughout the county shown at the county board meeting yesterday was a great one. The entire valuation of the county is raised from $40,000,000 to $41,000,000. In many of the towns there is a big increase, and some of them a notable decrease. It is said by a member of the board that the per cent in taxation will not vary perceptibly in any instance.

First Equalization.
"This is practically the first time that the county has had an equalization," said Chairman F. F. Livermore. Heretofore the work has not been done on a systematic basis, but has been a matter of give and take between the various towns. The result has simply been what could be expected from guess work. To be sure the effort was always made to get as near the true valuation as possible, but he figures show that errors of considerable size were apt to creep into the work.

Never Correct.
"This year the figures are based on the assessors' books, and are as nearly correct as it is possible to get them. The committee feels satisfied that the amounts apportioned to the towns represent to an extent an accurate estimate of their valuations. It is a remarkable fact that the report of the committee was adopted without an argument, something hardly ever done before."

Finance Report

The report of the committee on finances at the county board meeting yesterday was perhaps the most interesting and important of any. The tax levy for the county was as follows: $65,000 for county taxes for general purposes; $10,000 for asylum bonds from $1 to 100 inclusive; $2500 interest on these bonds; the one-cent mill tax for the soldiers' relief fund, according to chapter 33, laws of 1899, amounted to $4,100. The county school tax amounts to $38,304.90, covering all taxable property in the several towns, cities and villages. With regard to the matter of county deposits, the law was complied with and bids from the various city banks were received. The Merchants' and Mechanics' bank was one of the highest bidders and as the account had been kept there previously it was allowed to stay with that bank. 2 1/2 per cent. is the interest on daily balances and the agreement with the bank dates from Jan. 1, 1904 to December 31, 1904. $2000 was also levied on the real estate property of the county besides Beloit and Janesville, for compensation of the county superintendents of schools.

The meeting of the board came to a close at four o'clock Thursday afternoon, when all business had been transacted. The next meeting will be the third Tuesday in January.

SALARY LIST OF MANY COUNTIES

Rock County Asylum and County Farm Superintendent is Way Down the List.

Rock county is one of the richest counties in the state. It stands tenth in the per capita list of wealth in the recent report and the average wealth is over a thousand dollars per capita. This speaks well for Rock county and for Rock county farmers and merchants. It has a geographical location and a soil that makes it wealthy tobacco growing community and its people are conservative.

County Farms.
"With all its wealth the pay of the superintendent of the county asylum is poorer than in four counties in the state. Eight hundred dollars per annum with two hundred for the matron. Columbia pays seven hundred for the superintendent and four hundred for the matron, which brings the total up to more, and Salix pays the same as Rock. Waupaca pays six hundred for the superintendent and three hundred for the matron, but this is for the insane asylum only and Winnebago pays eight hundred. The following is a table of the salary of county superintendents throughout the state. It is interesting to note that Rock county is far behind on the salary list, but other reports show that our asylum and county farm are far ahead of many who pay and cost more to run:

Brown, Supt.	$900, matron, $200;
asylum alone.	Chippewa, Supt. $1,000,
matron, $200, asylum alone.	Columbia, Supt. $700, matron $400, asylum and poor-house.
Dane, Supt. $1,000,	matron, $200, asylum and poor-house.
Dodge, Supt. $800, asylum and poor-house.	Dunn, Supt. $1,200, matron; $300, asylum and poor-house.
Eau Claire, Supt. $1,200, matron, $200, asylum only.	Fond du Lac, Supt. $900, matron, $100, asylum and poor-house.
Green, Supt. $900, matron $300, asylum and poor-house.	Iowa, Supt. $1,000, matron, $400, asylum and poor-house.
Jefferson, Supt. $1,140, matron, $300, asylum and poor-house.	La Crosse, Supt. and matron $1,500, asylum only.
Manitowish, Supt. $900, asylum only.	Marathon, Supt. and matron, $2,000, asylum only.
Milwaukee, Supt. $2,000, asylum only.	Outagamie, Supt. $1,500, asylum only.

Sauk, Supt. $500, matron, $200, asylum and poor-house.	Shelby, Supt. $1,500, matron 450, asylum only.
Trempealeau, Supt. $1,000, asylum only.	Vernon, Supt. $1,800, asylum only.
Walworth, Supt. $900, matron, $300, asylum and poor-house.	Washington, Supt. $1,000, asylum only.
Waupaca, Supt. $1,000, matron, $300, asylum only.	Winnebago, Supt. $300, asylum and poor-house.

ANOTHER CONVICT WAS AT LARGE

FOUND WANDERING AIMLESSLY NEAR STOUGHTON.

WAS THOUGHT TO BE MALBON

But Proved To Be an Inmate of the Jefferson County Asylum— Taken Back Today.

Superintendent Killam received word from the Marshall at Stoughton the first of the week that he had taken up an insane man near that town. The Stoughton officer had received a communication from Mr. Killam, regarding the escape of Malbon from the Rock county institution and thought his man might be the runaway convict.

Was Not Malbon

Mr. Killam left for Stoughton at once but found the man who had been apprehended there, was not the one who had escaped from his care. Neither Mr. Killam nor the Stoughton police chief could get the man to say a word, except that they found that he went by the name of Joseph Hoag. Besides saying these words, he could not be made to open his mouth, although he managed to eat when food was placed before him.

Escaped from Jefferson Asylum

This morning Superintendent Killam received a communication from the Jefferson county asylum superintendent stating an inmate had escaped from his charge and no trace of him could be found. The Janesville officer immediately telephoned to Jefferson and gave the head of the asylum a complete description of the insane man held at Stoughton and it proved to be the one who had got away from the Jefferson county asylum. Hoag is now held at Madison and will be taken back to Jefferson tonight by the officer from that place.

WARDEN DRAFAHL GETS SET LINES

Heard Stories of Good Catches Near Four-Mile Bridge, and Makes Big Haul.

Several hundred feet of set lines were discovered and confiscated by Game Warden Peter Drafafl yesterday morning, in the river near the Four Mile bridge. The find was the result of rumors that came to the ears of Warden Drafafl and his deputies to the effect that parties were making a good thing out of set lines near Janesville and that some excellent hauls had been made at the point where the nets were found. The owners of the lines are not yet known but a careful investigation is going on that the offenders may be caught. The fact that the wardens were busy at Lake Koshkonong, near the unlawful fishermen in this vicinity more careless.

Football Training Methods

Teams Find Preparatory Work More Arduous Than Actual Playing. Coaches Are Relentless Taskmasters.

The average spectator considers the game the real work of a football team. To the coaches and players the actual game is as a day among the daisies compared with the grueling work of the previous preparation.

The trials of the players are many and varied. First there is the trial of the recitation rooms, where these more or less battered fellows must often be roundly "roasted" by the professor, according as the men of wisdom agree or disagree with the sport. This may last for hours. When again the football man visits his training quarters he must be "rubbed," "ironed" or "painted," according to the requirements of the case. Then back again he must go to his studies for a hour or two before practice.

From the careless appearance of the men on the field one might imagine that just was a matter of little thought and less time. Here perhaps is the greatest surprise to the uninitiated. Never did debutante or cotillion leader

THE YALE ELEVEN EXECUTING ITS FAMOUS TANDEM TACKLE PLAY.

The Yale coaches have developed a tandem play which is directed at either tackle that has netted handsome gains for the New Haven platoon in the last two years. The maneuver is a variation of close formation tactics, and in the above illustration the team is shown practicing it.

DILLON, THE CARLEIGH GUARD WHO TRICKED THE ENTIRE HARVARD ELEVEN, man and a thousand and one fine points that must be drummed and hammered into the men.

critics. All hands cheer, first one side of the field, then the other taking up the cry as each varsity man in turn is cheered. To look at the varsity man one might think he never had a care in the world as he falls on the ball or sprints this way and that, testing his "jeans" and his muscles. But let a friend on the side lines try to engage him in a few words of conversation and he finds him most preoccupied. He has a thousand cares on his shoulders. Must he not correct that bad use of his legs? Can he think out a new attack for making a "hole" for his "backs" on a straight "buck through"? Has he not Joe, his best friend, to tick and "put it all over" so decidedly that there's no doubt in the coaches' minds as to his superiority?

First, all hands assemble to run through a few signals. The "scrub" team is in charge of one or two assistant coaches, while the varsity is followed by the head coach and other assistant coaches, with a generous following of very attentive substitutes. A signal is given, and like a piece of newly adjusted cogwheel machinery the team makes some movement. You think it couldn't be done better and marvel at the smoothness with which those bulky clumps have moved, but the head coach, who with stentorian tones and much waving of the arms runs after the team, yells: "Whoa! Whoa! That'll never do! Can't you men glaze up a bit? Here, you quarter, don't you know if you step there you'll have these men in their own way? Can't you tackle see that this play must run easy? Use your bodies and, for goodness sake, clean things up!"

Once again they dash away, but this time perhaps something was wrong. To you it looked like a military double time evolution, but the lynx eyed coaches saw a dozen errors, and what they said to the players would hardly be called an interchange of courtesies.

After fifteen or twenty minutes of

Molly Hunt's Temptation

(Original.)

"And now, Mistress Molly, I must bid you adieu. Your father, your mother, yourself, have merited the thanks of the Continental congress for harboring me, and you especially deserve my thanks for your kindness while I have been in hiding under your roof."

"Do you go direct to the Americans?" she asked, putting up a pair of tempting lips, inviting a farewell kiss.

"No. I go to the house of that Tory Andrew Monerief to stop one night."

"And, pray, what will you do that for?" asked the girl, blushing.

"Margaret Monerief, his daughter, is one of us," he replied. "I must see her before I return. She and I are warm friends."

The girl drew away. Instinct told her that when a man risked his life to meet a woman it was not friendship that led him to do so. The man called a goodby, and they had parted.

The next night a party of British soldiers appeared on the place of Andrew Monerief and asked if a stranger had stopped there for the night. On being told that no one was there they searched the house, then the outhouses and at last came upon Lieutenant Otis hidden in the haymow. He was searched, and plans of the British fortifications at Trenton, with information as to the strength of the force defending them, were found concealed in his clothing. He was taken to the house of Farmer Hunt and led into the kitchen, where Molly was cooking supper. When she saw him she turned deadly pale.

"Good morrow, Mistress Molly," said the young man. "We meet again very soon. Some-one has given me away."

Molly staggered, without a word, out of the room, turning her back to the soldiers that they should not see her face.

"Strange," said Otis, "that she should be so affected. But perhaps she knows the fate of a spy."

It was late when the prisoner was taken to the farm, and his guard concluded to keep him there over night. A sergeant in command went to the second floor and selected a room with but one window and one door. Into this room he thrust Lieutenant Otis, placing a man at the door and one underneath the window. Then the rest of the guard lay down on the kitchen floor before the great stone fireplace and went to sleep.

At midnight the sentinel below stood leaning against the house, his hands grasping his musket, his hat over his eyes. Presently he sat down on the ground, then fell over on his back. He was asleep. Suddenly he felt his gun slip from his hands and, looking up, saw Molly bending over him, holding a long knife, its point within an inch of his heart. He thought her insane, so wild looking was she.

"What do you want?" he asked.

Molly did not answer; but, keeping the point of the knife as near his heart as possible and her eye fixed on him, she drew a little away till suddenly she raised the musket and, pulling up the breech, pointed it at him instead of the knife. Then she told him in a whisper to go before her, indicating the direction by pointing. Marching him to the house of a patriot whom she well knew she could depend on, the two locked him up in the barn, and the man stood guard while Molly returned. Going at once to an outhouse, she took out a ladder, raised it to Otis' window and, mounting, gave a faint tap. Otis' heart jumped within him as he went softly to the window and cautiously raised the sash.

"Come," said Molly, and she descended the ladder.

In the barn two horses stood saddled. Molly led the way with one, Otis following with the other, through a field to the rear, and, making a circuit, they struck the road far from the house.

"Molly," said Otis, his voice trembling with emotion, "I owe you everything. If I get clear some day I will return to thank you. If a life of devotion will help to repay."

"Oh, hush!"

"Molly, listen to me. Perhaps you thought that there was more than friendship between me and Margaret Monerief. There is not. She is working with me and was to give me war secrets. True, her father is a Tory and must have got wind of my being on the place."

"Oh, no, no! You were informed on by a wretch, one unworthy to live a minute by your side?"

"Who?"

She was riding at a gallop, but she dropped her reins on her horse's neck and covered her face with her hands.

"Molly, sweetheart, never mind who gave me away. You have rescued me, and my life belongs to you. It will be a willing servitude, for my heart is also your slave."

"No, no, no!" wailed the girl. "I am unworthy of you. I thought you loved Margaret Monerief and were going from me to her. I betrayed you. I am a selfish, fiendish creature. I put you in jeopardy of the halter, and the only hope I have for peace of mind is that I have undone what I have done."

She turned her horse's head and went galloping back in the direction from which she had come. Otis reined in his horse and sat looking after her.

"Molly!" he called. "Molly! I forgive you."

There was no reply except the dimming sound of her horse's hoofs as she drew farther from him.

After Cornwallis' surrender Otis sought out Hunt's farm, hoping to find Molly. But he was told that she had fled away and died. Her doctors said that she suffered from some mental strain that sapped her vitality.

The November Sale of Furs.

This store is strictly "in it" on furs. We know these fur values to be right. No trouble to convince you of this fact if you'll kindly investigate. Having bumped up against the best fur garments in this country, we know what we are talking about when we say that our jackets and capes stand at the head for quality and reliability. If we sell an Electric or Nearseal Jacket we are not afraid to face a customer the following winter on account of its having proved unsatisfactory. NOVEMBER AND OUTER GARMENTS.

November is the month for garment selling—coats, suits, separate skirts. Never before has this shop made such a showing. Styles, varieties, materials, fit, finish and price all appeal to you. A detailed description of the many garments we show would fill this page. We show a complete line of sizes and a wonderful variety of styles in all prices from $5.00 to $45.00. It is a remarkable showing to be found in a city of Janesville's size. People who have been to Chicago and Milwaukee have returned to "The Big Store" to buy. We have been receiving shipments of Winter Garments almost every day since October 1st, and were never better prepared to do an immense garment business. You can make no mistake by coming here before you buy.

Regarding Suits.—We have an assortment great enough to suit most any one. Our values are exceptional. Suit business has been very satisfactory this fall. No doubt the radical change in styles between spring and fall suits has much to do with the active movement of suits. Almost every lady has to have a new one. No woman having her best interests at heart can afford to pass our great stock.

Furs.—No time in our history could we show you such an extensive variety of fur collars, scarfs, boas, muffs and children's sets. We probably show 1000 separate pieces in every desirable skin.
